INDEX TO VOLUME CL.

AUTHORS.

Abbott, Samuel W. Progress in public hygiene, 376, 404.
Aldrich, Charles J. The bicycle as a therapeutic agent, 107.
Atwood, Charles A. A case of traumatic cerebral hemorrhage, 325; a case of appendicitis with general peritonitis, 347.

Baginsky, Adolf. Typhoid fever in children, 10.
Balch, Franklin G. Some cases of intussusception, 39; report of cases of decapsulation of the kidneys, 90; use of cystoscope in determining what operation is advisable in prostatic hypertrophy, 457.
Baldwin, H. C. A case of hysteria, 185.
Bartol, J. W. Report on thoracic disease, 297.
Benedict, Francis Gano. Scientific aspects of moderate drinking, 174.
Biggs, Hermann M. Preventive medicine: its achievements, scope and possibilities, 668.
Binney, Horace. Claudius' iodized catgut, 504.
Birge, William S. A new treatment for morphine addiction, 401.
Bishop, Louis Faugeres. Concerning danger of infection in attendants of tubercular patients, 507.
Blake, J. B. Nephrocapsulectomy, 539.
Blodgett, Albert N. Imposter, 167.
Bolles, W. P. Amputation at hip joint, 537.
Bowditch, Vincent Y. Arrested tuberculosis: subsequent histories of cases treated at the Sharon sanatorium, 308.
Bowen, John T. Report on dermatology, 484; clinical report from the ward for skin diseases at the Massachusetts General Hospital, 564.
Bradley, Charles H. An account of the work, including obstetrical technique, at the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, 292.
Brewster, G. W. W. A case of ruptured spleen; operation and recovery, 211.
Brown, Francis H. The medical register for New England, 55.
Buckingham, E. M. Gastric ulcer, 538.
Bullard, William N. Contribution to the etiology of idiocy and imbecility, 471.
Burley, Benjamin T. Bilateral facial atrophy, with report of a case and its treatment by subcutaneous injection of paraffin, 391.
Burrage, W. L. Recent progress in gynecology, 326, 348.
Burrell, Herbert L., and Cushing, Hayward W. The progress of surgery, 511, 541, 566, 589.

Cabot, Arthur Tracy. A brief résumé of present status of treatment of enlarged prostate, 458.
Cabot, Hugh. Results of operations upon prostate, Massachusetts General Hospital, from Jan. 1, 1892, to July 1, 1893, 456.
Cabot, Richard C. Alcohol and alcoholism, 281; ring bodies in anemic blood, additional forms, 321.
Chute, Arthur L. Some clinical observations on care of septic wounds, 423; gross pathology and mechanism of prostatic obstruction, 451; a sigmoid band of unusual origin. Operation. Relief, 476.
Clark, F. C. Action of resorcin, 483.
Codman, E. A. Some points of diagnosis and treatment of certain neglected minor surgical lesions, 371; report of a case of bone cyst of a digital phalanx, 211; a résumé of the results of Dr. F. B. Harrington's service, Massachusetts General Hospital, from June 1 to October 1, 1902, as seen in the following June or later, 618.
Coolidge, A., Jr. Recent progress in laryngology, 186, 212; deviation of nasal septum, 478.
Courtney, J. W. Dr. Watson and Mr. Holmes; or the worm that turned, 553.
Craig, Daniel H. Hystero-neuroses and their relation to the physical examination of all women patients, 497.
Crandon, L. R. G. Surgical anatomy of prostate, 450.
Cushing, H. W. Bullet wounds of the head, chest and abdomen, 538.

Dana, Charles L. The partial passing of neurasthenia, 339.
Denny, Francis P. Disinfection of the clinical thermometer, 585.
Dock, George. Prognosis, its theory and practice, 605.

Edebohls, George M. A second case of puerperal eclampsia successfully treated by renal decapsulation, 586.
Edes, Robert T. The relation of some special causes to the development of neurasthenia, 227.
Ehrlich, Paul. Herter lectures, 443; mutual relations between toxin and antitoxin, 443; physical chemistry v. biology in doctrine of immunity, 445; cytotoxins and cytotoxic immunity, 448.
Emerson, Francis P. Local conditions in the respiratory tract modified by general functional or organic disease, 508.
Emley, S. C. Carcinoma basocellulare. A group of superficial gland-like tumors of the skin, of relatively slight malignancy, including rodent ulcer, 611.
Ernst, Harold C. Some fermentations in medical education, 661.

Faulkner, William E. Blood-pressure observations in surgical cases, at the Boston City Hospital, 255.

Garceau, Edgar. Removal of calculus in ureter by a new method, 426.
Gilman, Warren R. The use of obstetric forceps, 182.
Goldthwait, Joel E. Slipping or recurrent dislocation of the patella. With the report of eleven cases, 169; infectious arthritis, 363.
Green, Charles M. A case of pregnancy in a uterus bicornis unicollis, 620.
Greenough, Robert B. Enterostomy in peritonitis, 525.
Gulick, Luther Halsey. The bicycle as a therapeutic agent, 40.

Hamilton, Annie Lee. A case of labor in an epileptic, 680.
Hammond, Philip. Progress in otology, 706.
Harrington, Charles. Mercuric cyanide as a surgical disinfectant, 43; sulphurous acid and its salts as food preservatives, as aids to fraud, and as possible causes of lesions of the kidneys, 555.
Harrington, F. B. Perineal prostatectomy, 482.
Harrington, Thomas F. Differential diagnosis of rheumatism and arthrites, 85.
Harvey, William W. A case of carbolic acid poisoning, 649.
Higgins, Frank A. Report on obstetrics, 242, 272; vaginal section in the treatment of extra-uterine pregnancy, 561.
Holyoke, Frank. An attempted suicide by illuminating gas, 324.
Howard, William Lee. Morphine and menstruation, 167.
Hubbard, Joshua C. Decapsulation of the kidneys, 93.

Jackson, Henry. Tubercular meningitis in adults, 501.
Jackson, James Marsh. Thyroidectomy for exophthalmic goiter; obstruction of the superior vena cava, 185.

Kahn, I. Stanley. Two simple formulæ for use in the artificial feeding of infants, 296.
Keefe, John W. A new needle holder, 297.
Kilburn, Henry W. Eye-strain considered as a factor in production of lateral curvature of spine (preliminary communication), 318.
Knapp, P. C. Tremor of right arm. Loss of muscular sense and ataxia, 539.

Larrabee, R. C. Arrest of development, probably resulting from congenital syphilis, 540; myxedema, 540.
Linenthal, H., Sidis, Boris, and Prince, Morton. A contribution to the pathology of hysteria based upon an experimental study of a case of hemianesthesia with clonic convulsive attacks simulating Jacksonian epilepsy, 674.
Lord, Frederick K. "Arrested tuberculosis." Should unproved cases be thus recorded? 224.
Lovett, Robert W. Forcible correction in lateral curvature of the spine. Fourth paper, 283.
Lund, F. B. Prostatectomy; spinal anesthesia, 460; cholecystectomy, 539; laminectomy for fractured spine, 540.

Marion, Horace E. A many-phased case of chorea, 397.
Mayo, William J. The association of surgical lesions in the upper abdomen, 641.
Mays, Thomas G. Human slavery as a prevention of pulmonary consumption, 647.
Minot, Charles S. The embryological collection of the Harvard Medical School, 107.
Montgomery, F. H. German measles, 510.
Morse, John Lovett. A case of traumatic hemopericardium, 240.
Mumford, James G. Finney's operation for pyloric stenosis: sudden death in status lymphaticus, 482.
Munro, John C. Report of cases of trephining for epilepsy, 109.
Murphy, Fred T. Experiments with the McGraw elastic ligature, 81; blood-pressure observations in surgical cases, at the Massachusetts General Hospital, 264.
Musser, John H. Some aspects of medical education, 633.

O'Conor, John. Radical cure of inguinal hernia, 374.
O'Neil, Richard Frothingham. A case of stone in the bladder in a boy of fifteen, 678.
Otis, Edward O. The significance of the tuberculosis crusade, and its future, 694.

Palmer, Sarah Ellen. A case of tuberculous contagion, 588.
Perkins, Jay. The relation of the burn to the bullet hole as evidence of homicide vs. suicide: report of the Nagle case, 616.
Porter, Charles Allen, and Quinby, William Carter. A case of ovarian tumor with twisted pedicle. Three reductions without operation. Operation; recovery, 375.
Post, Abner. Septicemia from the Bacillus mucosus capsulatus, 536.
Powers, Charles A. Cancer of the rectum; combined abdominal and perineal operation, 63.
Pratt, Joseph H. Hydrotherapeutic prescriptions, 288; report on pathology, 427.
Prince, Morton, Sidis, Boris, and Linenthal, H. A contribution to the pathology of hysteria based upon an experimental study of a case of hemianesthesia with clonic convulsive attacks simulating Jacksonian epilepsy, 674.
Putnam, J. J. A case of Huntington's chorea; its social aspects, 399; two cases of crural monoplegia of traumatic origin, 481.

Quackenboss, Alex. Ligation of lachrymal canal to prevent infection following cataract extraction, 347.

Reynolds, Edward. Decapsulation of the kidneys, 122.
Richardson, Maurice H. Intermittent hydronephrosis—uterine fibroid, 37; remarks upon cholecystectomy and cholecystostomy, with special reference to their comparative safety and efficiency in the treatment of biliary affections, 139.
Robinson, Beverley. Introductory lecture at University Bellevue Hospital Medical College, 417; the physiology of the ureter, 698.
Robinson, Byron. The physiology of the ureter, 698.
Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L. Report on pediatrics, 43, 66.

Scudder, Charles L. Cholecystostomy and cholecystectomy. A study of a certain series of operations, 145; a study of certain cases of sarcoma of the long bones from the Massachusetts General Hospital clinic, 579.

Sears, George G. The prognosis of idiopathic pleurisy, 209.
Shattuck, Frederick C. The general management of diabetes, 199; anomalies of thyroid secretion, 689.
Sidis, Boris, Prince, Morton, and Linenthal, H. A contribution to the pathology of hysteria based upon an experimental study of a case of hemianesthesia with clonic convulsive attacks simulating Jacksonian epilepsy, 674.
Stevens, Henry B. Three cases of hemorrhagic disease of the newborn, 565.
Stewart, H. John. The Finsen light cure, 16.
Stone, Arthur K. Cardiac displacement, 29.
Stone, James S. Blood-pressure observations in surgical cases, at the Boston Children's Hospital, 262.
Storer, Malcolm. On some questions relative to extra-uterine pregnancy, with especial reference to tubal abortion, 5.
Swift, William N. Cesarean section for placenta previa in a primipara, 65.
Sylvester, Charles P. Typhoid fever in infancy, with report of case complicated with meningitis terminating in recovery, 321.

Tenney, Benjamin. Some conclusions based on a study of one hundred and thirty-four cases of calculus in the ureter. With a report of three new cases, 115.
Thomson, W. H. Medical treatment of diabetes, 202.
Townsend, Charles W. A case of pyloric stenosis in an infant, 154; concerning German measles, 403.
Twombly, Edward L. Conservative surgery of the uterine appendages with especial reference to the ovaries, 703.

Vickery, H. F. Use of the sphygmomanometer, 480.

Wadsworth, Richard G. Ultimate results of some gynecological operations at Massachusetts General Hospital, 311.
Walton, G. L. The prevailing conception of degeneracy and degenerate, with a plea for introducing the supplementary terms deviation and deviate, 61.
Warren, J. Collins. Clinical lecture on epithelioma at Massachusetts General Hospital, 57.
Watson, F. S. Choice of operation for prostatic hypertrophy, 453.
Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, Paul. Recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, 95, 125.
White, Leon E. Resection of nasal septum with report of fifteen cases, 419.
Whiteside, G. S. The Caspar-Hirschmann demonstration and photographic cystoscope, 464.
Whitney, William F. A comparative study of the death rates for the State of Massachusetts for the years, 1850, 1875, and 1900, 535.
Williams, Francis H. A comparison between the medical uses of the x-rays and the rays from the salts of radium, 206; notes on radium. Production of the Gamma rays from the Beta rays of radium; use of radium in some diseases of the eye, 559.
Withington, Charles F. Aneurism of the aortic arch, 538.
Worcester, A. Obstetrical nursing, 1.
Wose, A. M. The cystoscope—its diagnostic value, 344.

Young, Ernest Boyen. Supernumerary breasts and nipples, with report and photograph of a case, 319; the intra-abdominal rupture of ovarian cysts, with report of a case, 235.

SUBJECTS.

Alcohol and alcoholism, Cabot, Richard C., 281.
Amputation. Amputation at hip joint, Bolles, W. P., 537.
Anaesthol, 415.
Anesthesia. Prostatectomy,—spinal anesthesia, Lund, F. B., 460.
Aneurism. Aneurism of the aortic arch, Withington, Charles F., 538.
Annual meetings of Massachusetts Medical Society and American Medical Association in conflict, 551.
Appendicitis. A case of appendicitis with general peritonitis, Atwood, Charles A., 347.
Arthritis. Infectious arthritis, Goldthwait, Joel E., 363; differential diagnosis of rheumatism and arthrites, Harrington, Thomas F., 85.
Artificial Feeding. Two simple formulæ for use in the artificial feeding of infants, Kahn, I. Stanley, 296.
Atrophy. Bilateral facial atrophy, with report of a case and its treatment by subcutaneous injection of paraffin, Burley, Benjamin T., 391.

Bicycle. The bicycle as a therapeutic agent, Aldrich, Charles J., 107; the bicycle as a therapeutic agent, Gulick, Luther Halsey, 40.
Biography. Baker, Frank E., 254; Bennet, George H. R., 138; Billington, Cornelius E., 56; Bissell, Philip, 442; Brooks, George Washington, 660; Cornish, Theodore Osgood, 604; Cox, Miller, 496; Dana, Edward Barbillac, Jr., 108; Eidenberg, Anton, 28; Ferguson, James Francis, 56; Fitzmaurice, Thomas J., 578; Foster, George Winslow, 56; Gallison, Jefferson Cushing, 226; Hale, George Clinton, 138; Hammond, George H., 390; Hanna, Edmund S., 108; Hartwell, Benjamin Hall, 56; Holcome, William Frederic, 310; Knight, Moses D., 282; Kohnstamm, Lorenzo J., 470; Krehbiel, August, 198; Liebmann, Gustav, 226; Ludlow, Ogden Curtis, 254; Mackay, Bernard, 552; Mason, Edwin Guillard, 604; McDermott, W. J., 310; McGee, William H., 552; Morris, Moreau, 310; Morse, Verranus, 282; Mott, J. Varnum, 108; Moulton, Benjamin Francis, 552; Murphy, Daniel Francis, 138; Otto, John Martin, 28; Pearce, F. Savary, 660; Polk, John Metcalfe, 390; Rankin, William, Jr., 226; Read, Robert McLellan, 470; Reed, Stuart H., 56; Reimar, August F. W., 524; Robinson, Jonathan Henry, 254; Roe, Joseph B., 168; Rooney, Joseph G., 168; Ruggles, Augustus D., 28; Rundlett, Henry Albert, 282; Russell, Howard C., 254; Smith, H. Lyle, 198; Thornton, John Knowsley, 310; Trudeau, Edward Livingston, 524; Truex, Stephen P., 390; Wadsworth, Peleg, 390; Wallace, David L., 254; Walter, Edward A., 254; Waterworth, William, 552; Weed, Robert M., 138; Wheeler, Charles Augustus, 198; Wheeler, Edward Reed, 496; White, Charles Warren, 578; Whybrew, Charles T., 282.
Blood-Pressure. Blood-pressure observations in surgical cases, at the Boston City Hospital, Faulkner, William E., 255; blood-pressure observations in surgical cases, at the Boston Children's Hospital, Stone, James S., 262: blood-pressure observations in surgical cases, at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Murphy, Fred T., 264.
Books Received. Abrams, Albert, the blues (splanchnic neurasthenia); causes and cure, 517; Anders, James M., textbook of the practice of medicine, 192; Archinard, P. E., the medical epitome series: microscopy and bacteriology, 544; Ashby, Thomas A., a textbook of the diseases of women, 22; Bandler, Samuel Wyllis, uterine and tubal gestation, 48; Bickham, Warren Stone, a textbook of operative surgery, covering the surgical anatomy and operative technique involved in the operations of surgery, 21; Billings, Frank, the practical medicine series of year books, vol. vi, 356; Bishop, E. Stanmore, essentials of pelvic diagnosis, with illustrative cases, 74; Bramwell, J. Milne, hypnotism: its history, practice and theory, 517; Cabot, Richard C., physical diagnosis of diseases of the chest, 219; Caird, Francis M., a surgical handbook, 192; Cheyne, W. Watson, a manual of surgical treatment, 48; Church, Archibald, nervous and mental diseases, 544; Conner, Phineas S., and others, an American textbook of surgery for practitioners and students, 101; Cordell, Eugene Fauntleroy, the medical annals of Maryland, 303; von Cullen, Thomas S., adenomyone des uterus, 74; Cunningham, D. J., manual of practical anatomy, 355; Davis, Charles H. Stanley, the self cure of consumption, 597; De Schweinitz, G. E., a textbook of diseases of the eye, 100; Douglas, Richard, surgical diseases of the abdomen, with special reference to diagnosis, 101; Dunglison, Robley, a dictionary of medical science, 436; Edgar, J. Clifton, the practice of obstetrics, 570; Einhorn, Max, diseases of the stomach, 160; Ewing, James, clinical pathology of the blood, 437; French, James Magoffin, a textbook on the practice of medicine, 383; Gould, A. Pearce, elements of surgical diagnosis, 517; Gould, George M., the American year book of medicine and surgery for 1904, 410; Haat, Prof. O., atlas of external diseases of the eye, 99; Haig, Alexander, uric acid as a factor in the causation of disease, 410; Hall, I. Walker, the purin bodies of food stuffs, and the rôle of uric acid in health and disease, 160; Hansell, Howard F., and Sweet, William F., textbook of diseases of the eye, for students and practitioners of medicine, 160; Hare, Hobart Amory, progressive medicine, 437; Head, Gustavus P., the practical medicine series of year books, vol. iii, 517; vol. ix, 572; Henderson, Frank L., lessons on the eye, 131; Hirst, Barton Cook, a textbook of diseases of women, 100; Jellett, Henry, a short practice of gynæcology, 383; Kelly, A. O. J., Editor, international clinics, 488; King, A. F. A., King's manual of obstetrics, 627; Lawson, George, diseases and injuries of the eye, with their medical and surgical treatment, 160; Lazarus-Barlow, Walter Sidney, the elements of pathological anatomy and histology for students, 572, Lazarus-Barlow, Walter Sydney, a manual of general or experimental pathology for students and practitioners, 626; Leftwich, Ralph Winnington, on syphonage and hydraulic pressure in the large intestine, 383; Lindsay, James Alexander, lectures on diseases of the lungs and the heart, 572; Luke, Thomas D., anesthesia in dental surgery, 572; Macleod, J. M. H., practical handbook of the pathology of the skin, 354; Martindale, W. Harrison, and Westcott, W. Wynn, the extra pharmacopoeia, 710; Matthews, Joseph M., a treatise on diseases of the rectum, anus and sigmoid flexure, 73; McGlannan, Alexius, the medical epitome series, physics and organic chemistry, 544; McLellon, Errett E., students-aid to muscular attachments, 517; Monro, Thomas Kirkpatrick, manual of medicine, 354; Mosher, J. Montgomery, scheme for the differential testing of nerves and muscles for use in diagnosis, 517; Mumford, James G., clinical talks on surgery, 100; Mummery, P. Lockhart, the after-treatment of operations, 356; Mundell, D. E., anatomy applied to medicine and surgery, 435; Nissen, Hartvig, and Posse, Baroness Rose, rational home gymnastics, 73; Palmer, Margaret D., lessons on massage, 355; Peterson, Frederick, and Haines, Walter S., a textbook of legal medicine and toxicology, 219; Potter, Samuel O., quiz-compends, 436; Proust, A., and Ballet, Gilbert, the treatment of neurasthenia, 571; A. Pichler's Wittwe & Sohn, enzyklopädisches Handbuch der Schulhygiene, 627; Ransome, Arthur, the principles of "open air" treatment of phthisis and of sanitorium construction, 627; Roger, G. H., Roger on infectious diseases, their etiology, diagnosis and treatment, 571; Ruge, Reinhold, introduction to the study of malarial diseases, 333; Salkowski, E., laboratory manual of physiological and pathological chemistry, 544; Savill, Thomas D., a system of clinical medicine, 409; Schaeffer, Oskar, atlas of operative gynecology, 597; Scudder, Charles Locke, the treatment of fractures, with notes upon a few common dislocations, 464; Smith, Major F., modern bullet wounds and modern treatment, with special regard to long bones and joints, field appliances and first aid, 73; Smith, William Johnson, nurses' guide to surgical bandaging and dressings, 101; Starr, M. Allen, organic nervous diseases, 303; Stelwagon, Henry W., treatise on diseases of the skin for the use of advanced students and practitioners, 710; Stevens, A. A., a manual of the practice of medicine, 355; Stewart, Netta, gynecological nursing, 464; Stöhr, Philip, textbook of histology, 101; Sutton, J. Bland, tumors: innocent and malignant, their clinical characters and appropriate treatment, 48; Swanzy, Henry R., a handbook of the diseases of the eye, 100; Toldt, Carl, an atlas of human anatomy, 355; Treves, Sir Frederick, a manual of operative surgery, 436; Vincent, Ralph, the nutrition of the infant, 382; Walsham, William Johnson, surgery, its theory and practice, 73; Wathen, John R., Wathen's epitome of histology, 99; Wheeler, Marianna, plain hints for busy mothers, 464; Whitman, Royal, a treatise on orthopedic surgery, 354; Williams, Chisholm, high frequency currents in the treatment of some diseases, 303; Wilson, J. C., the complete medical pocket-formulary and physician's vade-mecum, 333; Witthaus, R. A., a laboratory guide in urinalysis and toxicology, 544.

Calculus. Removal of calculus in ureter by a new method, Garceau, Edgar, 426; some conclusions based on a study of one hundred and thirty-four cases of calculus in the ureter. With a report of three new cases, Tenny, Benjamin, 115.
Cancer. Cancer of the rectum; combined abdominal and perineal operation, Powers, Charles A., 63; carcinoma basocellulare. A group of superficial gland-like tumors of the skin, of relatively slight malignancy, including rodent ulcer, Emley, S. C., 611; clinical lecture on epithelioma at Massachusetts General Hospital, Warren, J. Collins, 57.

Catgut. Claudius' iodized catgut, Binney, Horace, 504.
Cholecystectomy. Cholecystectomy, Lund, F. B., 539; remarks upon cholecystectomy and cholecystostomy, with special reference to their comparative safety and efficiency in the treatment of biliary affections, Richardson, Maurice H., 139; cholecystostomy and cholecystectomy. A study of a certain series of operations, Scudder, Charles L., 145.
Chorea. A many-phased case of chorea; Marion, Horace E., 397; a case of Huntington's chorea; its social aspects, Putnam, J. J., 399.
Correspondence. Alcohol and alcoholism, Cabot, Richard C., 281; anaesthol, 415; a national society for study of tuberculosis, 361; annual meetings of Massachusetts Medical Society and American Medical Association in conflict, 551; an unauthorized label, 415; "arrested tuberculosis." Should unproved cases be thus recorded? Lord, Frederick K., 224; arrested tuberculosis: subsequent histories of cases treated at the Sharon sanatorium, Bowditch, Vincent Y., 308; credit where credit is due, 337; imposter, Blodgett, Albert N., 167; John Wesley's life-long capacity for work, 495; leprosy in Massachusetts, 550; letter from Upper Egypt, F. M. G., 137; mammeata, 337; morphine and menstruation, Howard, William Lee, 167; sanitarium viz. sanatorium, 577; the bicycle as a therapeutic agent, Aldrich, Charles J., 107; the embryological collection of the Harvard Medical School, Minot, Charles S., 107; the graphophone in therapeutics, 389; the medical register for New England, Brown, Francis H., 55; the game of quarantine as played at Naples, Smith, James A., 602; technical terms may be misinterpreted, 603; die Bedeutung der Lumbalpunckton für die Psychiatrie von Prof. Nissl (Heidelberg), McDonald, William, Jr., 658; annual meeting, American Medical Association, June 13, 1904, Page, Calvin G., 687; sanitarium vs. sanatorium, Miller, A. Erskine, 687; the National Association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis, 714.
Cystoscope. Use of cystoscope in determining what operation is advisable in prostatic hypertrophy, Balch, Franklin G., 457; the Caspar-Hirschmann demonstration and photographic cystoscope, Whiteside, G. S., 646.
Cytotoxins. Cytotoxins and cytotoxic immunity, Ehrlich, Paul, 448.

Death-Rate. A comparative study of the death-rates for the state of Massachusetts for the years 1850, 1875 and 1900, Whitney, William F., 535.
Decapsulation. Report of cases of decapsulation of the kidneys, Balch, Franklin G., 90; nephrocapsulectomy, Blake, J. B., 539; a second case of puerperal eclampsia successfully treated by renal decapsulation, Edebohls, George M., 586; decapsulation of the kidneys, Hubbard, Joshua C., 93; decapsulation of the kidneys, Reynolds, Edward, 122.
Degeneracy. The prevailing conception of degeneracy and degenerate, with a plea for introducing the supplementary terms deviation and deviate, Walton, G. L., 61.
Dermatology. Report on dermatology, Bowen, John T., 484; clinical report from the ward for skin diseases at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Bowen, John T., 564.
Deviation. The prevailing conception of degeneracy and degenerate, with a plea for introducing the supplementary terms deviation and deviate, Walton, G. L., 61.
Diabetes. The general management of diabetes, Shattuck, Frederick C., 199; medical treatment of diabetes, Thomson, W. H., 202.

Editorials. The transmission of plague, 23; report of Massachusetts Hospital for epileptics, 24; distribution of insanity, 24; tuberculosis in New York police department, 25; final report of the royal commission upon arsenical poisoning, 49; a meeting in Baltimore to discuss the tuberculosis congress situation, 50; health commissioner of New York, 51; the Boston association for the relief and control of tuberculosis, 51; the financial problem of the New York hospitals, 75; adulteration and substitution, 76; trypanosoma and trypanosomiasis, 102; the menstrual functions of the morphine habitué, 103; diphtheria antitoxin, 104; medical investigation in the Philippines, 132; insanity among negroes, 132; paralysing parsimony, 133; the multiplication of scientific journals, 133; interscholastic sports, 161; report of state board of health of Massachusetts, 162; another organism in carcinoma, 163; testing of clinical thermometers, 163; annual report of Harvard University, 192; etiology and pathogenesis of pancreatic lithiasis, 194; study of rinderpest in the Philippine Islands, 195; antitoxin: cost of production, 196; premature burial, 220; a medical member of the Panama Canal Commission, 221; Bacillus prodigiosus, 248; politics and public health, 249; health of imperial Japanese navy, 250; microbes in books, 250; the Massachusetts school for feeble-minded, 276; the islands of Langerhans, 277; dusty streets, 304; report of public health and marine hospital service, 304; interscholastic sports, 305; intracranial surgery, 333; the Boston dispensary, 335; the visit of Prof. Paul Ehrlich, 356; catheterization of the ureter, 357; the etiology of spina bifida, 359; an explosive outbreak of typhoid fever, 384; disinfection of dwellings, 384; Pullman cars and money, roots of evil, 385; something about shoes, 386; co operative medical work, 411; typhoid epidemic at Watertown, N. Y., 412; influence of tramps in spreading smallpox, 412; specialized surgery, 437; report of Massachusetts General Hospital, 438; interchange of medical teachers, 465; intermediate repair of injuries of childbirth, 465; Cesarean section at Boston Lying-in Hospital, 466; proposed new Bellevue Hospital, 467; use of public institutions for clinical instruction, 489; medical education in America from a British standpoint, 490; report of Boston Insane Hospital, 491; minimum proteid requirement of the healthy man, 518; leprosy in Massachusetts, 519; patent medicine curse, 520; the absence of eosinophile cells in pus, 545; report of cancer research fund, 546; American Social Science Association, 546; meeting of the American Gynecological Society, 547; laboratories of pathology and pharmacology at the University of Pennsylvania, 573; development of free public baths, 574; bulletins of the Oregon state board of health, 574; award of the Warren triennial prize, 575; newer methods of water purification, 598; report of the Massachusetts state board of insanity, 599; mental disease in general hospitals, 600; annual report of the Surgeon-General of the United States, 601; annual meeting of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 627; the development of the private hospital, 628; extinction of rabies in Great Britain, 629; new buildings at the Boston City Hospital, 629; Dr. Osler on Immortality, 655; the international congress of arts and sciences, 656; the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, 657; report of royal commission upon human and animal tuberculosis, 683; dedication of the new laboratories at the University of Pennsylvania, 684; consumption in New England, 711; a departure in the training of nurses, 712; the Fourth of July, 713.

Embryological collection of the Harvard Medical School, Minot, Charles S., 107.
Enterostomy. Enterostomy in peritonitis, Greenough, Robert B., 525.
Epilepsy. Report of cases of trephining for epilepsy, Munro, John C., 109; a contribution to the pathology of hysteria based upon an experimental study of a case of hemianesthesia with clonic convulsive attacks simulating Jacksonian epilepsy, Sidis, Boris, Prince, Morton, and Linenthal, H., 674; a case of labor in an epileptic, Hamilton, Annie Lee, 680.
Eye-strain. Eye-strain considered as a factor in production of lateral curvature of spine (preliminary communication), Kilburn, Henry W., 318.

Finsen Light. The Finsen light cure, Stewart, H. John, 16.

Graphophone in therapeutics, 389.
Gynecology. Recent progress in gynecology, Burrage, W. L., 326, 348; a case of ovarian tumor with twisted pedicle. Three reductions without operation. Operation; recovery, Porter, Charles Allen, and Quinby, William Carter, 375; ultimate results of some gynecological operations at Massachusetts General Hospital, Wadsworth, Richard G., 311; the intra-abdominal rupture of ovarian cysts, with report of a case, Young, Ernest Bowen, 235; supernumerary breasts and nipples, with report and photograph of a case, Young, Ernest Bowen, 319; a case of labor in an epileptic, Hamilton, Annie Lee, 680; conservative surgery of the uterine appendages with especial reference to the ovaries, Twombly, Edward L., 703.

Heart. Cardiac displacement, Stone, Arthur K., 29.
Hemopericardium. A case of traumatic hemopericardium, Morse, John Lovett, 240.
Hemorrhage. A case of traumatic cerebral hemorrhage, Atwood, Charles A., 325; three cases of hemorrhagic disease of the new-born, Stevens, Henry B., 565.
Hernia. Radical cure of inguinal hernia, O'Conor, John, 374.
Herter Lectures. Erhlich, Paul, 443.
Hydrotherapy. Hydrotherapeutic prescriptions, Pratt, Joseph H., 288.
Hygiene. Progress in public hygiene, Abbott, Samuel W., 376, 404.
Hysteria. A case of hysteria, Baldwin, H. C., 185; a contribution to the pathology of hysteria based upon an experimental study of a case of hemianesthesia with clonic convulsive attacks simulating Jacksonian epilepsy, Sidis, Boris, Prince, Morton, and Linenthal, H., 674.
Hystero-neuroses. Hystero-neuroses and their relation to the physical examination of all women patients, Craig, Daniel H., 497.

Idiocy. Contribution to the etiology of idiocy and imbecility, Bullard, William N., 471; arrest of development, probably resulting from congenital syphilis, Larrabee, R. C., 540.
Immunity. Physical chemistry v. biology in doctrine of immunity, Ehrlich, Paul, 454; cytotoxins and cytotoxic immunity, Ehrlich, Paul, 448.
Intussusception. Some cases of intussusception, Balch, Franklin G., 39.

Laminectomy. Laminectomy for fractured spine, Lund, F. B., 540.
Laryngology. Recent progress in laryngology, Coolidge, A., Jr., 186, 212.
Lateral Curvature. Forcible correction in lateral curvature of the spine. Fourth paper, Lovett, Robert W., 283; eye-strain considered as a factor in production of lateral curvature of spine (preliminary communication), Kilburn, Henry W., 318.
Leprosy in Massachusetts, 550.
Ligature. Experiments with the McGraw elastic ligature, Murphy, Fred T., 81.

Mammeata, 337.
Measles. German measles, Montgomery, F. H., 510; concerning German measles, Townsend, Charles W., 403.
Medical Notes, 25, 51, 76, 104, 134, 164, 196, 222, 250, 277, 306, 335, 359, 386, 412, 439, 467, 492, 521, 547, 575, 601, 630, 657, 685, 713.
Medical register for New England, Brown, Francis H., 55.
Meningitis. Tubercular meningitis in adults, Jackson, Henry, 501; typhoid fever in infancy, with report of case complicated with meningitis terminating in recovery, Sylvester, Charles P., 321.
Mercuric Cyanide. Mercuric cyanide as a surgical disinfectant, Harrington, Charles, 43.
Miscellany, 28, 54, 78, 107, 135, 166, 198, 223, 253, 280, 308, 337, 361, 388, 414, 441, 469, 493, 524, 550, 577, 603, 632, 660, 686.
Monoplegia. Two cases of crural monoplegia of traumatic origin, Putnam, J. J., 481.
Morphine. A new treatment for morphine addiction, Birge, William S., 401; morphine and menstruation, Howard, William Lee, 167.
Myxedema. Myxedema, Larrabee, R. C., 540.

Nasal Septum. Deviation of nasal septum, Coolidge, A., Jr., 478; resection of nasal septum with report of fifteen cases, White, Leon E., 419.
Needle Holder. A new needle holder, Keefe, John W., 297.
Neurasthenia. The partial passing of neurasthenia, Dana, Charles L., 339; the relation of some special causes to the development of neurasthenia, Edes, Robert T., 227.

Obituaries. Joshua Little Hale, 54; In memoriam—William Ingalls, 106; Ambroise A. Liebault, 361; resolutions on the death of Dr. Charlotte Blake Brown, 523; Roberts Bartholow, 549; Sir Henry Thompson, 549; a tribute to Benjamin H. Hartwell. By the Massachusetts Medico-Legal Society, 576; Professor Wilhelm His, 631; Nathan Smith Davis, 714.
Obstetrics. An account of the work, including obstetrical technique, at the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, Bradley, Charles H., 292; a second case of puerperal eclampsia successfully treated by renal decapsulation, Edebohls, George M., 586; the use of obstetric forceps, Gilman, Warren R., 182; a case of labor in an epileptic, Hamilton, Annie Lee, 680; report on obstetrics, Higgins, Frank A., 242, 272; vaginal section in the treatment of extra-uterine pregnancy, Higgins, Frank A., 561; on some questions relative to extra-uterine pregnancy, with especial reference to tubal abortion, Storer, Malcolm, 5; cesarean section for placenta previa in a primipara, Swift, William N., 65; obstetrical nursing, Worcester, A., 1.
Ophthalmology. Ligation of lachrymal canal to prevent infection following cataract extraction, Quackenboss, Alex., 347.

Patella. Slipping or recurrent dislocation of the patella. With the report of eleven cases, Goldthwait, Joel E., 169.
Peritonitis. A case of appendicitis with general peritonitis, Atwood, Charles A., 347; enterostomy in peritonitis, Greenough, Robert B., 525.
Pleurisy. The prognosis of idiopathic pleurisy, Sears, George G., 209.
Prostate. Use of cystoscope in determining what operation is advisable in prostatic hypertrophy, Balch, Franklin G., 457; a brief résumé of present status of treatment of enlarged prostate, Cabot, Arthur Tracy, 458; results of operations upon prostate, Massachusetts General Hospital, from Jan. 1, 1892, to July 1, 1893, Cabot, Hugh, 456; gross pathology and mechanism of prostatic obstruction, Chute, Arthur L., 451; surgical anatomy of the prostate, Crandon, L. R. G., 450; perineal prostatectomy, Harrington, F. B., 482; prostatectomy. — Spinal anesthesia, Lund, F. B., 460; choice of operation for prostatic hypertrophy; Watson, F. S., 453.

Radium. A comparison between the medical uses of the x-rays and the rays from the salts of radium, Williams, Francis H., 206; notes on radium. Production of the Gamma rays from the Beta rays of radium: use of radium in some diseases of the eye, Williams, Francis H., 559.
Recent Progress. Report on pediatrics, Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L., 43, 66, 621; recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, Paul, 95, 125; recent progress in laryngology, Coolidge, A., Jr., 186, 212; report on obstetrics, Higgins, Frank A., 242, 272; report on thoracic disease, Bartol, J. W., 297; recent progress in gynecology, Burrage, W. L., 326, 348; progress in public hygiene, Abbott, Samuel W., 376, 404; report on pathology, Pratt, Joseph H., 427; report on dermatology, Bowen, John T., 484; the progress of surgery, Burrell, Herbert L., and Cushing, Hayward W., 511, 541, 566, 589; progress in otology, Hammond, Philip, 706.
Resorcin. Action of resorcin, Clark, F. C., 483.
Rheumatism. Differential diagnosis of rheumatism and arthrites, Harrington, Thomas F., 85.

Sanitarium viz. sanatorium, 577, 687.
Septicemia. Septicemia from the Bacillus mucosus capsulatus, Post, Abner, 536.
Septic Wounds. Some clinical observations on care of septic wounds, Chute, Arthur L., 423.
Societies. American medical association. Section on practice of medicine, 650, 681, 708; American public health association, 19, 45; association of American physicians, 593, 623; Boston society of psychiatry and neurology, 189, 217, 351; Boston society for medical improvement, 217, 299, 516; northwestern branch of the Philadelphia county medical society, 329; medical society of the State of New York, 215, 245; New York academy of medicine, 380; New York neurological society, 300, 487, 513; obstetrical society of Boston, 17, 247, 408, 570; Suffolk district medical society, 126; Suffolk district medical society, section for surgery, 155, 462; the American society of clinical surgery, 353; the medical association of the greater city of New York, 274, 431; the southern surgical and gynecological association, 68, 96, 128.
Sphygmomanometer. Use of the sphygmomanometer, Vickery, H. F., 480.
Spleen. A case of ruptured spleen; operation and recovery, Brewster, G. W. W., 211.
Status Lymphaticus. Finney's operation for pyloric stenosis: sudden death in status lymphaticus, Mumford, James G., 482.
Stomach. Gastric ulcer, Buckingham, E. M., 538; Finney's operation for pyloric stenosis: sudden death in status lymphaticus, Mumford, James G., 482; cardiac displacement, Stone, Arthur K., 29.
Suicide. An attempted suicide by illuminating gas, Holyoke, Frank, 324; the relation of the burn to the bullet hole as evidence of homicide vs. suicide: report of the Nagle case, Perkins, Jay, 616.
Sulphurous Acid. Sulphurous acid and its salts as food preservatives, as aids to fraud, and as possible causes of lesions of the kidneys, Harrington, Charles, 555.
Surgery. Amputation at hip joint, Bolles, W. P., 537; the progress of surgery, Burrell, Herbert L., and Cushing, Hayward W., 511, 541, 566, 589; a sigmoid band of unusual origin. Operation. Relief, Chute, Arthur L., 476; bullet wounds of the head, chest and abdomen, Cushing, H. W., 538; a case of ovarian tumor with twisted pedicle. Three reductions without operation. Operation; recovery, Porter, Charles Allen, and Quinby, William Carter, 375; cholecystostomy and cholecystectomy. A study of a certain series of operations, Scudder, Charles L., 145; conservative surgery of the uterine appendages with especial reference to the ovaries, Twombly, Edward L., 703.

Thermometer. Disinfection of the clinical thermometer, Denny, Francis P., 585.
Thyroidectomy. Thyroidectomy for exophthalmic goiter; obstruction of the superior vena cava, Jackson, James Marsh, 185.
Tuberculosis. A national society for study of tuberculosis, 361; "Arrested tuberculosis." Should unproved cases be thus recorded? Lord, Frederick K., 224; concerning danger of infection in attendants of tubercular patients, Bishop, Louis Faugeres, 507; tubercular meningitis in adults, Jackson, Henry, 501; a case of tubercular contagion, Palmer, Sarah Ellen, 588; human slavery as a prevention of pulmonary consumption, Mays, Thomas G., 647; arrested tuberculosis: subsequent histories of cases treated at the Sharon sanatorium, Bowditch, Vincent Y., 308; the significance of the tuberculosis crusade, and its future, Otis, Edward O., 694.
Typhoid Fever. Typhoid fever in children, Baginsky, Adolf, 10; typhoid fever in infancy, with report of case complicated with meningitis terminating in recovery, Sylvester, Charles P., 321.

X-rays. A comparison between the medical uses of the x-rays and the rays from the salts of radium, Williams, Francis H., 206.